S. A. L. AND L. & N. OFFICIALS HERE

Two Private Cars Arrived With Chief Engineers of Two Roads, and a Number of Civil Engineers—Day Spent in Inspecting.

Two private cars, bearing high officials of the Seaboard Air Line and the Louisville and Nashville, reached Pensacola yesterday morning. In a private car on the same train came General Manager Starks, of the latter system, though he did not remain long, departing at noon for Louisville. The others, however, spent the entire day in Pensacola, and will not go out before this morning. Even then, they will return to-night and remain until tomorrow.

Among those in the party representing the Louisville and Nashville were Chief Engineer Courtney and three or four civil engineers, while the Seaboard system was represented by one of its superintendents, the chief engineer and a corps of civil engineers. Early in the morning the party started out for an inspection of the terminal facilities here, which required considerable time, as the visitors made a close inspection of everything pertaining to the railroad work, even to the storage and switching facilities. Later the party went to the shops and from there to other points about the city, where the company has interests. To-day the party will go out over the F. & A. division for a similar inspection, and upon returning to-night will remain here until tomorrow morning.

when the cars will go out over the Pensacola division and that section of the road will be viewed.

What the object of the visit and inspection by the Seaboard officials means can only be conjectured, and there were many in the city who when they heard of their visit, began thinking over the matter, and the only solution that could be arrived at was that the S. A. L. is on a deal with the L. & N. for terminal facilities here.

One Dollar Saved Represents Ten Dollars Earned.

The average man does not save to exceed ten per cent of his earnings. He must spend nine dollars in living expenses for every dollar saved. That being the case he cannot be too careful about unnecessary expenses. Very often a few cents properly invested, like buying seeds for his garden, will save several dollars outlay later on. It is the same in buying Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It costs but a few cents, and a bottle of it in the house often saves a doctor's bill of several dollars. For sale by all druggists.

CORNELL COACH FAVORS SHORTENING DISTANCES.

By Associated Press.
Ithaca, N. Y., July 12.—Charles E. Courtney, coach of the Cornell navy, has placed himself on record as being emphatically in favor of shortening the distance to "inter-collegiate" varsity races from four to three miles. His strong argument against the present distance is that no college man should be asked to do the necessary training for this distance, at the risk of health and to the detriment of his university work, as it is almost impossible for an oarsman to keep up the latter when he spends so much time training for the boat.

Baltimore Building Collapsed.
Baltimore, July 12.—The Glenn building, one of the smaller office buildings, collapsed to-day, killing two persons and injuring one.

A Long Nose.
In a village in Maryland an old deacon in shaving himself on Sunday prior to church time made a slight cut with the razor on the extreme end of his nose. Quickly calling to his wife, says the Philadelphia Ledger, he asked her if she had any court plaster in the house.

"You will find some in my sewing basket," she said.
The deacon soon had the cut covered. At church in assisting with the collection he noticed every one smile as he passed the plate, and some of the younger people laughed outright. Very much annoyed, he asked one of his assistants if there was anything wrong with his appearance.

"Well, I should say there was," answered the assistant. "What is that upon your nose?"
"Court plaster."

"No," said his friend; "it's the label from a spool of cotton. It says, 'Warranted 200 yards.'"

They "Never Have Time."
Here and there and everywhere are to be found the man and the woman who "never have time."

If you are one of those who "never have time," change your ways. Try this: Make up each day a schedule of what you shall do at each hour and do not budge from the schedule. It will surprise you to find how readily you can dispose of a task within a certain time if you convince yourself that you have to. It is the feeling that you must that will force you to do it. Let each item on the schedule be regarded as an inviolate engagement with yourself and do not let the business of one item cut into the time set for the next. These definite engagements with yourself will enable you to have time for work, reading, writing, calling, church-going and recreation.

Do not stop to think it over. You will forget about it if you delay. Try the plan at once.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

WILL SHIP CARGO LUMBER TO PANAMA

British Steamer Miramar is Now Loading a Cargo of a Million and a Half Feet, Which is the First Shipment From Here.

The first cargo of lumber to be shipped to Panama from Pensacola is now being loaded in the harbor. It will go out on the British steamer Miramar, consigned to Hyer Bros., and a large part of it has already been stored.

The cargo will aggregate about a million and a half feet of dressed lumber, and is the output of mills in this section. The contract for furnishing this class of lumber was secured by a Chicago firm from the Panama Canal Commission, but the firm purchased the lumber here and the shipment will go from this port.

While it is not definitely known, it is supposed that the lumber is to be used in erecting cottages and houses there and for other similar purposes.

While this will be the first cargo of lumber to go out from Pensacola it is believed that other shipments will follow, owing to the fact that Pensacola is the nearest port to the canal and in addition the best class of timber and lumber procurable can be purchased here and loaded cheaper than at any other port. At present the heavier class of timber is being shipped from the Mississippi coast.

CHINESE ADOPT PLAN OF BOYCOTT

By Associated Press.

Victoria, B. C., July 12.—Mail advices from Hong Kong tell of a novel plan of campaign adopted by Chinese in South China to further the boycott movement against United States merchandise. Wealthy Chinese of Teik-hof in Sanning district, have imported thousands of Japanese fans, on one side of which they have had rough sketches printed of Americans roughly treating Chinese and on the other side sketches of buffaloes being beaten and ill-used are printed. The letter press accompanies the pictures calling upon the Chinese to fight the Americans by boycotting their goods. The fans are being widely circulated in south China.

LOVE OF NATURE.

The More Man Leaves Out of Door the More He Admires It.

The more man has become engaged in the conflicts of civilization, in intellectual disappointment, the more he has felt the uselessness of knowledge, the more he has turned to certain expressions of art as an escape. He has addressed poems to nature, has painted landscape more and more, has shown in every way that such an escape was a dream. Art has existed from the very beginning, even before the first man stuttered out his name of the animals and expressed their character by the sound of their name. The dances of savages, as we call them—that is to say, of people of earlier forms of civilization—invented before the arts of design, record in a poetic way what they do and the seasons of such doing and even the appearance of nature—the storm, the rain, the clouds blowing across the sky, the lashing of the sea against the shore. In Fiji they have a dance where the women spread out their arms like the wave lines of the surf, and the children, springing up behind them, represent the foam of the wave crests. From these beginnings we know that tragedy and comedy, as we call them, have grown. Then, as all these disappear in fact, they are recorded in the art of painting. And as man more and more leaves behind him a life of out of doors in so much does he desire to admire it.—McClure's Magazine.

THE BUDDHIST HADES.

Eight "Easy Stages" of the Most Awful Kinds of Torture.

The place of torment to which all wicked Buddhists are to be assigned on the day of final reckoning is a terrible place of punishment. This Buddhist hell is divided into eight "easy stages." In the first the poor victim is compelled to walk for untold ages in his bare feet over hills thickly set with red-hot needles, points upward. In the second stage the skin is all carefully filed or rasped from the body and irritating mixtures applied. In the third stage the nails, hair and eyes are plucked out and the denuded body saved and planed into all sorts of fantastic shapes. The fourth stage is that of "sorrowful lamentations." In the fifth the left side of the body and the denuded head are carefully roasted. Yema, the Buddhist Satan, superintending the work. In the sixth stage the arms are torn from the body and thrown into an immense vat among the eyes, nails and hair previously removed. Then in plain hearing of the sore footed, blind, maimed, roasted and bleeding victim the whole horrid mass is pounded into a jelly. In the seventh stage the other side of the victim and his feet are roasted brown, and then comes the eighth and last stage, in which the candidate is thrown into the bottomless pit of perdition.

SIXTY BANDITS HANGED BY JAPANESE IN KOREA

Bands of Outlaws Who Have Been Robbing and Murdering Exterminated By Soldiers.

By Associated Press.

San Francisco, July 12.—A story from the village of Talku, a hundred miles inland from Fusan, has been brought to San Francisco by the Rev. F. F. McFarland, a missionary, who came home on the steamer Korea. In less than a week sixty men, charged with being bandits and cut throats, were hanged by order of the Japanese government. A party of Korean soldiers were the executioners.

For many months, bands of outlaws had been robbing and murdering in the country surrounding Talku. The situation became so serious that the Japanese instructed the extermination of the offenders. The commission was entrusted to a detachment of Korean soldiers who caught the men and hanged them.

Won His Point.

Joseph Jefferson used to tell an interesting story of how his father and company were rescued from a distressing predicament in Springfield, Ill. Arriving there, they used the last of their funds in building a small theater. There was a religious revival in the town, the leaders of which not only denounced the players, but persuaded the town council to impose a heavy license upon the "unholy calling." All the actors were in despair when they were visited by a young lawyer, who offered in the interest of fair play to have the license fee reduced. He appeared before the council and in an eloquent speech filled with logic and pathos and interspersed with anecdotes which raised roars of laughter won his point. The lawyer was Abraham Lincoln.

Why He Was Well Shaken.

Nursing of the sick in rural Scotland is primitive. The Dundee Advertiser relates that a physician left for a patient a bottle of physic whereon were the words "Before taken to be well shaken." On paying his next call the doctor found that the poor fellow had been taken in hand by a stalwart son and at intervals vigorously shaken from head to foot before the next "tea-spoonful" was administered. "Don't see see, sir," explained the young fellow on being remonstrated with, "if father ge kep' fro' sleepin' hisself away an' go on drinkin' physic he can't never die."

Something Wrong.

The bishop of Worcester, on alighting from a train at Paddington, asked a porter to see after his luggage.

"How many articles are there, sir?" asked the porter.

"Thirty-nine," replied the bishop abstractedly.

The man came back and said he could find only two.—London Sporting Times.

The Only One of His Kind.

"Have you ever attempted to play 'Hamlet'?" asked the manager.

"No, sir. I do not consider myself fitted by nature to impersonate the melancholy Dane."

"Then you are, indeed, as you have said, an exceptional actor. I will give you a job."—Chicago Record-Herald.
